FELL FIGHTING AT HEAD OF HIS STAFF OFFICERS

Most Pitiful Figure in Sorrowing Ireland Today, Weeping, But With Pride Shining Through Her Tears, is Kitty Kiernan, Collins' Fiancee

Assassins' Bullets Cut Short the Free State Leader's Brilliant Career as a Soldier and Statesman and Shattered His Romance

By United Press

Dublin, Aug. 23.—Fighting at the head of his staff officers against Irish rebels who ambushed his car on the road from Bandon Macroon late yesterday, Michael Collins, Ireland's leader, fell mortally wounded at the moment of his victory.

As he died, the rebels were beaten off. For a half hour's fighting against overwhelming odds, the fiery leader of the party and others fought off his assailants. At least three of the rebels were wounded. They were slowly being driven back when a bullet struck Collins, and he fell, dying almost instantly.

Death Claims Fair Colleen's Hero

Longford, Ireland, Aug. 23.—The most pitiful figure in sorrowing Ireland today, weeping, but with pride shining through her ears, is Kitty Kiernan, fiancée of the murdered Michael Collins.

The assassins' bullets which cut short the free state leader's brilliant career as soldier and statesman, shattered the heart-romance of his life upon which he had turned his back "until the fight is won."

The girl, who risked her life running through long stretches of woods, filled with British soldiers to warn Collins, then a rebel captain, was the one he had chosen for his bride. They decided they could not marry until Mickey's work for Ireland was finished. At the time of the signing of the peace treaty they were to have been married, but De Valera's action and the Ulster border war caused another postponement of their marriage.

The romance of the couple was on every Irish lip and in every Irish heart. Kitty, Longford county beauty, was everywhere with Collins during his campaign days. She was popular at meetings of the Sinn Fein parliament of the Free State government, always in the front row of the ladies' gallery when Mickey had the floor.

They met under the most romantic circumstances during the fight with Great Britain. Collins, driven here and there, appearing and re-appearing like a phantom, swore never to be taken alive. As head of the armies, Collins slept in a lonely cabin in the heart of the woods. The British learned of his whereabouts, and the Black and Tans prepared to attack him.

Kitty, to whom the name of Collins was only as the rebel leader, risked her life to penetrate the British cordon and warn him. They fled together and escaped just ahead of the troops.

CHICAGO MAN GOES TO BED ON CAR TRACK

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Michael Durokovich wanted a 5 cent fare. So did his neighbor. They met and appointed him to get it from the street car company by fair means or foul.

Last night Durokovich dragged a bed across the car tracks and retired. A sign informed the world that he'd get up when the 5 cent fare was granted. Soon there was a line of cars stranded behind the bed. Then the company called on the police for help.

Michael was locked up.

Damaging Fires in the Brainerd District

G. N. INCOME RISES MILLION IN YEAR, GAIN MORE IN SEPT.

IMPROVED BUSINESS CONDITIONS REFLECTED IN THE NORTHWEST

REDUCTION IN OPERATING EXPENSES, LARGE GAINS IN FREIGHT TRAFFIC

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—Improved business conditions in the northwest are reflected in the preliminary July report of the Great Northern railway, which shows an increase of $1,000,000 in railway operating income over the total for the same month last year. Reduction in operating expenses and large gains in freight traffic, especially in iron ore, are largely responsible for the excellent showing.

Further gains are forecast for August and September, on the basis of the excellent crops, the grain yield in territory served by the Great Northern being the best since 1915 except in Washington.

Estimated gross earnings for the Great Northern for July are $8,785,202, compared with $8,158,612 last year, an increase of $626,590. Estimated railway operating income is $2,075,000, compared with $1,073,147, an increase of $1,000,000.

The first week in August showed an increase of 41 per cent in revenue carloads of freight handled, with estimated freight earnings of $1,492,933 compared with $1,448,451 last year, an increase of $44,482, or 3 per cent. The discrepancy in percentages of increase in business and earnings is accounted for by the fact that freight rates have been reduced 10 per cent and the large increase this year is in iron ore, which does not earn as high an amount to each car as the average of all freight, said President Ralph Budd.

"Iron ore loading is heavy and the movement is not being delayed by the strike," said President Budd. "Ore loadings thus far this season total 5,912,284 tons, an increase of 1,918,303 tons over last year."

"Compared with the 9,200 men who went on strike, we now have approximately 6,000 men at work. This force is sufficient to care for current work and for safe operation of trains. The greatest loss will be on account of not being able to put in service more cars which otherwise would have been repaired during the months of July and August."

Commenting on reports that the railroads are suffering severely from rapidly increasing numbers of bad order cars and locomotives, President Budd said his road is in good condition.

"On July 1 we had 6,319 bad order revenue service cars, except ore cars, and on Aug. 15 we had 6,444. On July 1 we had 1,168 serviceable locomotives and 228 locomotives stored awaiting assignment. On Aug. 1 we had 1,101 serviceable locomotives and 176 stored ready for use. On April 1, just after the federal control period ended and the railroads were returned to their owners, the Great Northern had 17 locomotives stored ready for use. To day we have 136 engines stored awaiting assignment."

"The tieup in Montana which we experienced in July was on account of lack of protection by local and state authorities and its chief detriment was the failure to move empty cars west, which now is creating a shortage of cars for lumber loading, although there is a surplus on the system."

"We have on cars and docks about five weeks' supply of coal, so the Great Northern does not anticipate any coal shortage. Conditions generally are most promising and we look for further gains in freight revenues, which despite higher cost of coal and lower freight rates, will give railway operating earnings for 1922 approaching normal and much in excess of any since the beginning of the federal control."

LAW AND WEDLOCK PROVE A BITTER CUP FOR THE GIRL

ELIZABETH EHLE LEA A BRIDE AND WIDOW OF A DAY IN ST. PAUL

MARRIED A BANDIT WHO PROMISED TO GO STRAIGHT, BUT KEPT WRONG

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Aug. 23.—Law and marriage proved a bitter cup for Elizabeth Ehle Lea today.

A few hours after she married Albert Lea, he was fatally wounded in the robbery of a saloon.

Lea and two other men held up Ballis. One of them struck him over the head and knocked him unconscious. Ballis, a young Italian, regained consciousness and began firing. Joseph H. Cooper, alias Walter Davis, dropped with a bullet through the lungs. Lea was wounded three times and died later in the hospital. The third man escaped.

Police located the bride and widow of a day. She told of having met Lea in her home town. They had been together two years. She said they were married in the afternoon. Lea had promised to go straight, she said. This first step was to the altar. Today she planned his funeral.

Police said Lea served a term in jail at Fargo for a drug store robbery. His companion, Cooper, had served time in a North Dakota penitentiary.

(By United Press.)

Moorhead, Minn., Aug. 23.—The first aerial policewoman in the world has everything in her favor. To begin with, her name is Watson. She will keep an eye on moonshiners from the sky in an eight-cylinder Curtis, and will fly with a searchlight on nooks in the Red River Valley.

They picked Helen Louise Fernancy Watson for the job after she convinced city authorities that aerial police can come nearer being an ideal than a ground worker. She is a little French girl of 23, so small she is popularly known as "Chubby." Her husband, Francis Watson, was an aerial policeman in Louisiana before the war.

"Chubby" deserted the movies to join her husband in stunt flying and she will continue stunt flying in addition to her duties as aerial policewoman.

LATEST BULLETINS ON DEVELOPMENTS IN DUAL STRIKES, COAL AND RAIL

In Extreme Emergency Government Will Take Over Railroads

Washington, Aug. 23.—In an extreme emergency the government will have to take over the railroads, Secretary of War Weeks declared today in commenting on reports that settlement of the rail strike was not probable from the conference at New York of rail executives and strike leaders.

He emphasized that the federal government was determined to prevent a breakdown of transportation.

Bitter Disputes at Rail Heads Conference

New York, Aug. 23.—Bitter disputes marked the opening hours of the railroad executives conference today. Heads of 148 railroads met to consider proposals of the Big Four leaders to end the shopcrafts strike, found themselves much at variance over their reply.

A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central, Hale Holden and C. H. Markham, a committee whose purpose was not disclosed, went to the roof of the Yale Club after the general conference had been under way for some time. They paced up and down in earnest conversation. Smith announced that the delegates had a lot of steam to get off their chests and that no decision was in sight.

Winslow Bill to Investigate Coal Industry

Washington, Aug. 23.—The House today took up the Winslow bill urged by President Harding to provide for a searching investigation of the coal industry.

Despite severe opposition, indications were the measure would pass before adjournment today to stand as the first actual step toward enactment of the program of industrial legislation requested by President Harding in his recent strike message.

Loading Coal For Northwest

St. Paul, Aug. 23.—Loading of coal for the northwest has begun in West Virginia and the Kentucky fields. Within about ten days the supplies will begin arriving and the northwest will receive about 400,000 tons weekly, according to C. P. White, federal fuel distributor of the northwest.

According to advices from the federal fuel distribution committee in Washington, 2,558 cars of coal were loaded for the northwest yesterday, the first day of the loading. Illinois union fields are also supposed to begin loading for the northwest soon.

All the coal now being headed this way is bituminous coal and no anthracite coal is in sight.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL OUT OF PIGEON HOLE

Washington, Aug. 23.—The soldier bonus bill after reposing in a senate pigeon hole for nearly a year, was out on the floor today with every indication that it would be passed and sent to a conference with the House within a week.

Whether President Harding will veto or sign the measure remained uncertain when debate was scheduled to open with a strong defense of the bonus for the soldiers by Senator McCumber.

Senator Borah, "anchor man" of the opposition, is confident that if the president vetoes the measure it will be sustained. The senator claims that at least 37 senators, or five more than is necessary to prevent over-riding the veto, will vote against the measure.

Claims Government Can Meet Bonus

Washington, Aug. 23.—The government can meet every dollar for a bonus without an additional tax levy, Senator McCumber, chairman of the finance committee, declared today in opening the fight in the senate on the soldiers compensation bill.

McCumber called upon President Harding and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon—both of whom opposed the measure last year because of its tax obligations—to reconsider the bill in the light of present day conditions which he said would prove that "we can meet every dollar this bill will call for without additional tax levy and without, in the slightest degree, affecting the refunding of any unpaid short term obligations."

"The obligations will not exceed $100,000,000 per year for the first three years, and can be met through the interest due on foreign obligations, in case that interest should fail, through current revenues, and if the latter should fail, then through the sale of a very small part of our foreign bonds."

Muskegon, Mich., Aug. 23.—Thousands of bushels of fruit are rotting in western Michigan because of the rail strike. Commission houses have quite operations since the railroads gave notice fruit must be sent at the shipper's risk. "Fruit—Help yourself" signs are posted at many farms.

TIMBER AND MEADOW FIRES GAIN FOOTHOLD HERE

FOREST RANGER JOHN NELSON CALLED TO PINE RIVER ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

MILITIA AND AIRPLANE ASSISTING TO STAMP OUT FIRE RUNNING TO HACKENSACK

Special to Dispatch:—St. Paul, Aug. 23.—W. T. Cox, State Forester, is on his way to the Brainerd district by automobile and is expected to arrive before 6 o'clock this evening. He will make a first hand inspection of the fire area north of Brainerd between Pine River and Hackensack.

John Nelson, Forest Ranger for this district, called the Dispatch from Pillager, with latest reports from the fire zone. Mr. Nelson states that there are 20 bad fires raging in the vicinity of Pine River. The National Guard under Capt. Fred Moulster, which mobilized last Friday, is doing good work on these fires. A. E. Pimley is with Mr. Nelson. They just visited Staples, where the fighters are having trouble in keeping a fire in the vicinity under control.

Timber and meadow fires seem to be gaining another foothold in this district again from the reports which come from the forester's office.

Forest Ranger John Nelson, was called to Pine River Tuesday afternoon, where serious fires have just broken out. An airplane came up from the cities last night to aid in the detection of these fires and aid in bringing them under control.

The fire is raging between Pine River, thirty miles north of Brainerd, and Hackensack, seventeen miles north of Pine River. A. E. Pimley of St. Paul, of the fire prevention bureau, is assisting Mr. Nelson. Ranger Page is covering the burning district which lies tributary to the Minnesota & International railway by airplane. The militia is out under Capt. Moulster.

Patrolman Melvin Berg is working with a crew of men on a very stubborn fire near Staples. He is using five gasoline driven pumps on this one fire in an effort to keep it under control.

Patrolman Robert Crust was out yesterday afternoon fighting a fire on section 26 north of Red Sand lake on the Herbert Peterson farm. Guards were left there to watch it during the night and teams with plows were called for daylight this morning. It was reported that this fire originated in a large meadow where haymakers had built a campfire to cook their dinner. One hundred and fifty tons of hay were burned as a result.

Fire near Grave lake and Nokay lake east of Brainerd were under control last night, as was also one on section 10 of Crow Wing township which had threatened the destruction of much property.

The department reports that most of these fires are set through the negligence of farmers, instead of by campers and tourists, as many suppose. In this dry season, with grass and brush just like tinder, it is a serious matter to even throw a match or a cigar stub down where it might start a fire. Everyone going into the woods should use extreme care to avoid starting a fire, and should not countenance carelessness on the part of anyone else with whom they come in contact.

The location of the fires west of Brainerd are very serious on account of the threatened destruction of many valuable meadows along Gull river. It is practically impossible to control a fire once it gets a foothold

U. S. HIGHWAY HEAD LAUDS STATE ROADS

MINNESOTA TO FORE IN PROGRESSIVE PROGRAM, FEDERAL CHIEF SAYS

Since enactment of the Babcock "Good Roads" amendment a little more than a year ago, Minnesota has come to the fore as one of the most progressive road building states in the Union.

This is the opinion of Thomas H. McDonald, Washington, chief director of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, who visited Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, while enroute home after an extensive trip through southern and western states, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Minnesota's road building program is one of the most comprehensive that has come to his attention and is being carried out in a most thorough and efficient manner, Mr. McDonald said.

The federal highway executive commented also upon the high standards of roads now being built throughout the country and praised the ability of the men identified with the great public work. Minnesota as already made public now enjoys the distinction of leading all other states in total mileage of completed federal aid roads.

END OF TEXTILE STRIKE IS FORECAST

Lawrence, Mass., Aug. 23.—The end of the great textile strike was forecast here today when the Pacific Mill, the largest here, announced that its workers would be taken back at the scale of wages in effect previous to the wage cut of twenty per cent. ### MAN HUNT FOR WM. Z. FOSTER, RADICAL LEADER

FOSTER, LEADER OF 1919 STEEL STRIKE, AN INTELLECTUAL RADICAL

ESCAPED FROM BRIDGEMAN, MICH., IN A TAXI ACCORDING TO POLICE

(By United Press.)
Bridgeman, Mich., Aug. 23.—A man hunt for William Z. Foster and sixty other radicals who escaped during a raid in a communist convention in the heart of the woods near here, was continued by federal authorities today.

The raid, which yesterday netted seventeen alleged leaders of the communist party of America, was declared to have been the most successful yet conducted in the United States. The seventeen captives were lodged in jail here and will be tried for alleged violation of the Michigan syndicalism law.

Foster, leader of the 1919 steel strike, and considered one of the most intellectual radicals of the U. S., escaped in a taxi, according to authorities.

TIMBER AND MEADOW FIRES GAIN FOOTHOLD HERE

Special to Dispatch:—
St. Paul, Aug. 23.—W. T. Cox, State Forester, is on his way to the Brainerd district by automobile and is expected to arrive before 6 o'clock this evening. He will make a first hand inspection of the fire area north of Brainerd between Pine River and Hackensack.

John Nelson, Forest Ranger for this district, called the Dispatch from Pillager, with latest reports from the fire zone. Mr. Nelson states that there are 20 bad fires raging in the vicinity of Pine River. The National Guard under Capt. Fred Moulster, which mobilized last Friday, is doing good work on these fires. A. E. Pimley is with Mr. Nelson. They just visited Staples, where the fighters are having trouble in keeping a fire in the vicinity under control.

Timber and meadow fires seem to be gaining another foothold in this district again from the reports which come from the forester's office.

Forest Ranger John Nelson, was called to Pine River Tuesday afternoon, where serious fires have just broken out. An airplane came up from the cities last night to aid in the detection of these fires and aid in bringing them under control.

The fire is raging between Pine River, thirty miles north of Brainerd, and Hackensack, seventeen miles north of Pine River. A. E. Pimley of St. Paul, of the fire prevention bureau, is assisting Mr. Nelson. Ranger Page is covering the burning district which lies tributary to the Minnesota & International railway by airplane. The militia is out under Capt. Moulster.

Patrolman Melvin Berg is working with a crew of men on a very stubborn fire near Staples. He is using five gasoline driven pumps on this one fire in an effort to keep it under control.

Patrolman Robert Crust was out yesterday afternoon fighting a fire on section 26 north of Red Sand lake on the Herbert Peterson farm. Guards were left there to watch it during the night and teams with plows were called for daylight this morning. It was reported that this fire originated in a large meadow where haymakers had built a campfire to cook their dinner. One hundred and fifty tons of hay were burned as a result.

Fire near Grave lake and Nokay lake east of Brainerd were under control last night, as was also one on section 10 of Crow Wing township which had threatened the destruction of much property.

The department reports that most of these fires are set through the negligence of farmers, instead of by campers and tourists, as many suppose. In this dry season, with grass and brush just like tinder, it is a serious matter to even throw a match or a cigar stub down where it might start a fire. Everyone going into the woods should use extreme care to avoid starting a fire, and should not countenance carelessness on the part of anyone else with whom they come in contact.

The location of the fires west of Brainerd are very serious on account of the threatened destruction of many valuable meadows along Gull river. It is practically impossible to control a fire once it gets a foothold

BARTERED HUSBAND FOR $100 A MONTH

WIFE REGRETS BARGAIN AND SUES FOR ALIENATION OF AFFECTION

(By United Press.)
Alameda, Calif., Aug. 23.—Mrs. Jennie Kendrick today told the United Press the story of how she bartered her husband to Mrs. Edith Spreckles Wakefield for $100 a month and of how she later regretted her bargain. She is now considering suing Mrs. Wakefield for $25,000 alleged alienation of affection and damages.

Mother love—the prospect of getting a steady income for her baby—prompted her to sell her husband and woman love for the man who caused her to change her mind later, she indicated.

Mrs. Kendrick, 24, her vivacious face framed in neatly bobbed hair, showed no bitterness toward Mrs. Wakefield, woman of wealth, as she described the strange love tangle centering around the affections of Rodney Kendrick, artist.

"I think Mrs. Wakefield thinks a lot of me," she said. "She always has been so good to me—but I don't know."

"I first met Rodney at Elizabeth town in September, 1918," she continued. "He was an aircraft inspector. I was working for the department of labor. He was an ardent wooer and in March following we were married."

MEXICAN TREE WITH HANDS

To the Aztec it Was the Earthly Expression of a Dreadful, Almighty Deity.

Few instances of the singular fact that nature, possibly for protection, reverts in flowers and plants the shape or appearance of other objects, are more astonishing than the tree with hands. The Aztecs in Mexico were so much impressed by it that they offered it most devout worship. To them the Macpalxochitl, as they called it—the "Hand Flower Tree"—with its blood red hands, was the earthly expression of a deity, dreadful and almighty. From the center of each bloom there springs a columnar stem which accurately represents a human arm and wrist, and this breaks into five stamens, which are of a gory hue and arranged after the manner of the human hand, with its fingers and thumb. The very points of these vegetable fingers are curved like finger tips with overgrown nails.

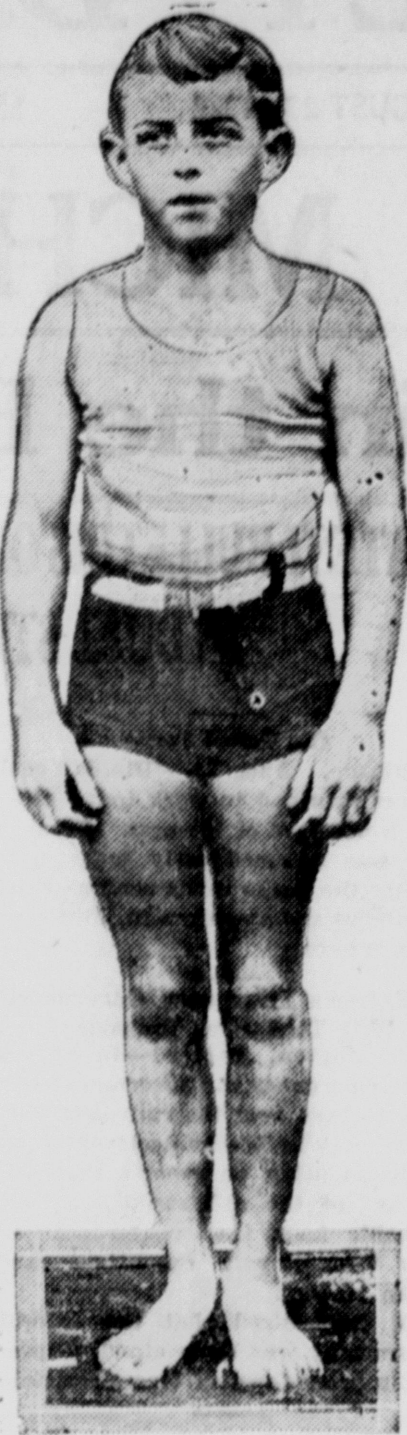

The Macpalxochitl has its parallel in one of the rarest of plants in Japan—the Five-Fingered Orange. This dwarf tree, that is seldom more than five feet high, and one of the most crooked, grows its fruit in the exact shape of the human hand, fingers, thumb and all. It is a partly opened hand, and the hard pointed nails of the lean, yellow fruit-hand are the closest imitation to the nails of an aristocratic Chinaman.

Kangaroo is a Born Boxer. The art of boxing comes naturally to the kangaroo. The mother gives the young kangaroo his first lessons in this mode of self-defense. Afterward the father takes up the teaching, and with much gentleness and patience trains him to box. When kangaroos box they back off and rush in and prance about very skillfully. Each one watches for an opportunity to strike, and at the same time tries to prevent the other from striking. They cleverly try to move about so as to get the enemy below them on the slope of a hill. The resounding blows they give with their hind feet can be heard far away. The kangaroo fights like a gentleman. He is a good sportsman, even when he is fighting with his enemy. The animals strike with the flat of the foot, and never use against each other their terrible ripping claws.

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

600 Convicts Mutiny; Threaten to Break Out

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 23—Six hundred convicts, denied extra peaches for dessert during New Jersey's peach week, howled and stormed in their cells early today, threatening to smash their way to freedom. Extra deputies were rushed to the state prison, after the prisoners had shown their desperation by refusing to be quelled by drawn revolvers turned upon them by 110 officers and troops.

The best building weather possible can be expected in the next few months, and other conditions as well favor those who need new homes, barns, granaries, corn cribs or other improvements. Next year we look for a much delayed building boom that must supply a lack of homes throughout the country and this means shortage of material and probably higher prices. Build now and avoid any such inconveniences and loss. Right now material and labor are plentiful and capital is freer than for a long time. Take advantage of these conditions. We have plans for the kind of a building you want.

BOYS AND GIRLS CLUBS MONARCHS OF ALL BIG FAIRS

OVER 850 HUSKY YOUNGSTERS TO INVADE STATE FAIR IN GREAT COMPETITION

THEY ARE THE OUTSTANDING FEATURE OF EVERY BIG FAIR IN STATE THIS YEAR

(By State Farm News Service)
Corn may be king in Iowa, the Ku Klux Klan may rule Texas, but the boys and girls clubs are the undefeated monarchs of the Minnesota fair season.

They are having things all their own way. What they must and haven't got, they get. Why, the old folks aren't havin' a "look in" at all.

Fair association managements are getting scared. All because the boys and girls clubs threaten to be the whole show. Even the management of the big State Fair is uneasy because T. A. Erickson, state club leader at University Farm, reports that 850 husky youngsters from practically every county in the state are to invade the grounds for the premier Gopher show event.

Over in Washington county, the old folks have never had a county fair. "We're going to have one" said the calf and corn and bread and sewing clubs. And they got it. They were the whole show, too. Clubs, schools and the Lake Elmo Commercial club united in making the Washington county club fair held recently at Lake Elmo one of the best attended events of its kind staged in the state.

Lake county boasts of so many enthusiastic club boys and girls that it was forced to hold three county club fairs in three cities. Two Harbors, Knife River and Telemo on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Lake county clubs are especially proud of their shows because I. L. Hobson, leader of boys and girls club work in the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., now on an inspection tour of the state, was present to "see how it's done in Minnesota."

Every one of the 40 county fair coming before the State Fair are having special club programs, says Mr. Erickson, and most of them are designating a special club day. The Dodge county Junior Livestock show to be held on Aug. 24 is looked to particularly, he said, because of the large number of entries in the sheep, dairy calf, baby beef and hog classes together with unusual interest displayed in judging teasers.

But county rivalries will run high, for Olmstead county boys and girls next door are conspiring to stage the best livestock show in southern Minnesota on their special club day at the Olmstead county fair at Rochester on Aug. 28. There are more than 30 members in the dairy calf club alone.

But all these are just "preliminaries" for the "big show" at the State Fair on Sept. 2 to 7, when 850 live Gopher youngsters are going to show their mothers and dads how to can and sew and pick the cow that fills the bucket of farm prosperity.

Autos and flivvers won't be enough. They are coming in special cars. One hundred young citizens of Minnesota's famed Red River Valley have already chartered a special car for their journey to the "big doings."

Former "champions" made forever famous in clubdom by prize winning exploits will be there. Lloyd Vermilyea of Dexter, whose Lady Clearview Ormsby swept the ring for the 1921 state dairy calf championship, will again be present with his blue ribbon heifer. She will be shown in the Mower county Holstein herd.

John Ward, last year's champion potato boy, will be there again as a member of a potato demonstration team to show how he captured first honors in the state with a yield of 512 bushels to the acre, over 6½ times the state average for 1921. He comes from Rauch, in Koochiching county.

Dozens of teams selected by competition as the best in their counties will battle for supremacy. There will be eight breadmaking, four cake and eight sewing demonstration teams, 35 general livestock and 35 dairy cattle judging teams, 12 poultry demonstration teams, eight dairy demonstration teams, one rabbit team, two corn teams, seven potato teams and 35 canning teams, all of from two to three members each. In addition more than 50 clubs will put on individual club exhibits.

The keenest competition witnessed since the beginning of the club work is anticipated in the canning contest, because for the first time the winners will have a free two months' trip to Europe as the final goal. The state championship trip will go to the Interstate Fair at Sioux City, Iowa, in a contest including a dozen midwest states. Winners there will compete at the International Livestock Exposition, Chicago, with teams from all parts of the country for the prize trip to Europe.

Purebred calves are under consideration as prizes to be awarded the dairy demonstration team which, champion at a state fair, comes from the ring victorious at the National Dairy show held in St. Paul on Oct. 7 to 14. Teams from 12 states will battle for the prize calves at the National in a program illustrative of all phases of good dairy husbandry such as milk testing, selection of stock, feeding and the like.

Victorious dairy cattle and general livestock judging teams will meet similar teams from other states at the National Dairy show. The best sewing, bread or cake team also competes at the Interstate fair, for the midwest championship.

BULLET JOE BUSH IS GOING SOME

"Donnie" in "Here and There in the World of Sport" Reviews Brainerd Man's Record

MAINSTAY OF THE YANKEES
Article Appeared in Sunday Issue, August 20, of the Atlantic City, N. J. Gazette

Under the subhead of "Bullet Joe Bush Not Nearly Through", Donnie an Eastern sport writer, reviews the achievements of the Brainerd boy in his column entitled "Here and There in the World of Sport", as published in the Sunday Atlantic City, N. J., Gazette of August 20. He says:

Speaking of veterans reminds us that one "Bullet Joe" Bush, a star hurler of the Athletics when he was a youngster, is still performing in great form for the New York Yankees this season, which is his twelfth in major league baseball.

Last season, major league critics admitted that "Bullet Joe" was through, and that he would never be able to regain his once sensational form. But one never knows in these days of comebacks.

That Bush, considered once a promising youngster on Connie Mack's Athletics, fooled his critics can be shown by the fact that he has won nineteen and lost four games so far this season.

This is the twelfth year in the majors for the former Mackman and his twelfth in baseball. He starred with the Missoula Club of the Union Association in 1912, winning 29 games and losing 12. One of Connie Mack's eagle-eyed scouts pushed $800 before the owner of the Missoula aggregation and Bush packed his baggage and reported in Philadelphia before the close of the season. He pitched in one game that year and won. The next season he took his regular turn on the mound, winning thirteen and losing seven. In 1914, the last year the Mackmen won a pennant, Bush was one of the dependable, with sixteen wins and twelve defeats.

When Mack broke up his famous team in 1915, Bush was one of the three veterans retained. He had a poor year, winning but five of twenty starts. The following season with a last-place team he pitched in forty games, winning fifteen and losing twenty-four.

In 1917 Bush won eleven out of twenty-eight starts. In December of the year Mack sent the remnants of his once great team, Bush, Schang and Strunk, to Boston, for Gregg, Thomas and Kopp and $60,000 in cash.

His first season with the Red Sox saw Bush turn in fifteen wins against the same number of defeats. Toward the end of the season his arm started to trouble him. Over the winter he took numerous treatments in the hope that it would return to its former strength. It did, but in the spring training trip the salary wing was again hurt, with the result that Bush was out of it for the season. He appeared in only three games during the entire campaign, pitching but nine innings as a relief hurler. That he had little is evidenced by the eleven hits made off him in the nine innings.

The year's rest most apparently did Bush the world of good for he returned in 1920 and won fifteen and lost fifteen. The following year he appeared in thirty-six games, winning sixteen and losing nine.

Cut Glass Shower
A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Harold Johnson of N. E. Brainerd a bride of two weeks in form of a cut glass shower presented by 18 girls of the "I'll Try" class of the Evangelical church.

An enjoyable evening was spent by all, accompanied by the music of tin pans, boilers and bells. A dainty luncheon was served.

To Escape Envy.

CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH AT SHOPS

Dr. M. A. Shillington, Assistant Surgeon of Northern Pacific Hospital at St. Paul, Examines Same

NO CONTAGIOUS DISEASE FOUND
Three Camps at Brainerd in Good Condition, Due to Diligence of Supt. J. P. Anderson

Dr. M. A. Shillington, assistant surgeon of the Northern Pacific hospital at St. Paul, sent out to inspect the sanitary conditions of railway shop camps, maintained by the railway at Duluth, Brainerd, Staples, Dilworth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, finished an examination at Brainerd Wednesday morning and reports that the men are cared for and housed in a very clean and sanitary manner.

The three camps at the Brainerd shops are gone over every morning, all refuse is picked up and burned, and dishes sterilized with steam. The camps are screened fly-tight, so that there is no danger of contamination of food.

There is no sickness in the shops at Brainerd, nor has there been in any of the Northern Pacific railway shop camps since the shopmen's strike.

Dr. F. B. Simons, head of the city department of health at St. Paul, made an inspection of the Como shops in that city, following a report of a scarlet fever epidemic, and was able to deny absolutely the story that was circulated concerning scarlet fever.

There has not been a single case of contagious disease at any of the shop camps on the Northern Pacific in Minnesota.

J. P. Anderson, shop superintendent of the railway shops in Brainerd, by his diligence has maintained the three camps at Brainerd in A. No. 1 condition. One camp is maintained for the guards, one for the car repairers and one for the machinists. Cook houses and bunk houses are maintained.

All employees of the company automatically become members of the Northern Pacific Beneficial Association which looks after the health of the men.

Reported Innocent of Crime

John S. Porfiro is reported innocent of any crime, yet was locked behind prison bars for sixty days, and finally released under a heavy bail. He was innocently charged with a crime which occurred last year when money was stolen from the Capitol theatre, New York. At the time he drove a taxicab similar to the one used in the holdup of the theatre, which caused mistake. He is now a baker, but is broken in spirit and is practically without means of redress.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO SAVE DOG

(By United Press)
Hood River, Ore., Aug. 22.—John Young, 18, son of Owen D. Young, former president of the General Electric company, of New York, was dead today, having given his life to save a dog.

Young was employed as a material checker in a construction camp of the Pacific Power & Light company here.

The camp dog, which had been Young's companion, ran in front of a moving locomotive on the front of which Young late yesterday was riding.

The boy leaped from the engine, snatched the dog in an effort to throw it to safety, but slipped and fell directly beneath the wheels of the moving train.

He died before help could reach him.

PEOPLES SUPPLY CO. ADDS NEW FIXTURES

The Peoples Supply company on South Sixth street, in line with their progressive policy, have lately installed a fine Bowe coffee case and dispensing counter, carrying electric coffee grinder and large supply bins.

This was done to keep the coffee under the most sanitary conditions and serve it out to the customer in a fresh condition with none of its aroma or strength lost.

With new innovations being installed at frequent intervals, the Peoples Supply is rapidly outgrowing its quarters, which is the very best compliment that could be paid to any business. It is planned soon to enlarge their show room to accommodate the growing business, already half again as large as it was last year.

This company has a most perfect refrigeration plant for preserving its perishable products. The plant is of the Hussman Co. construction, there being only one other like it in the city, at the Storzbach meat market in Northeast Brainerd. In this plant eggs can be frozen solid in a few hours, so intense can the cold be made. Butter can be kept in the same compartment with other products without being tainted by them.

Messrs. Cater and Peterson, the proprietors, came to this city from St. Cloud about a year and a half ago. It is quite unusual for so young a firm to become so well established

Cut Glass Shower

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Harold Johnson of N. E. Brainerd a bride of two weeks in form of a cut glass shower presented by 18 girls of the "I'll Try" class of the Evangelical church.

An enjoyable evening was spent by all, accompanied by the music of tin pans, boilers and bells. A dainty luncheon was served.

CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH AT SHOPS

Dr. M. A. Shillington, Assistant Surgeon of Northern Pacific Hospital at St. Paul, Examines Same

Three Camps at Brainerd in Good Condition, Due to Diligence of Supt. J. P. Anderson

Dr. M. A. Shillington, assistant surgeon of the Northern Pacific hospital at St. Paul, sent out to inspect the sanitary conditions of railway shop camps, maintained by the railway at Duluth, Brainerd, Staples, Dilworth, St. Paul and Minneapolis, finished an examination at Brainerd Wednesday morning and reports that the men are cared for and housed in a very clean and sanitary manner.

The three camps at the Brainerd shops are gone over every morning, all refuse is picked up and burned, and dishes sterilized with steam. The camps are screened fly-tight, so that there is no danger of contamination of food.

There is no sickness in the shops at Brainerd, nor has there been in any of the Northern Pacific railway shop camps since the shopmen's strike.

Dr. F. B. Simons, head of the city department of health at St. Paul, made an inspection of the Como shops in that city, following a report of a scarlet fever epidemic, and was able to deny absolutely the story that was circulated concerning scarlet fever.

There has not been a single case of contagious disease at any of the shop camps on the Northern Pacific in Minnesota.

J. P. Anderson, shop superintendent of the railway shops in Brainerd, by his diligence has maintained the three camps at Brainerd in A. No. 1 condition. One camp is maintained for the guards, one for the car repairers and one for the machinists. Cook houses and bunk houses are maintained.

All employees of the company automatically become members of the Northern Pacific Beneficial Association which looks after the health of the men.

Reported Innocent of Crime

John S. Porfiro is reported innocent of any crime, yet was locked behind prison bars for sixty days, and finally released under a heavy bail. He was innocently charged with a crime which occurred last year when money was stolen from the Capitol theatre, New York. At the time he drove a taxicab similar to the one used in the holdup of the theatre, which caused mistake. He is now a baker, but is broken in spirit and is practically without means of redress.

GAVE HIS LIFE TO SAVE DOG

(By United Press)
Hood River, Ore., Aug. 22.—John Young, 18, son of Owen D. Young, former president of the General Electric company, of New York, was dead today, having given his life to save a dog.

Young was employed as a material checker in a construction camp of the Pacific Power & Light company here.

The camp dog, which had been Young's companion, ran in front of a moving locomotive on the front of which Young late yesterday was riding.

The boy leaped from the engine, snatched the dog in an effort to throw it to safety, but slipped and fell directly beneath the wheels of the moving train.

He died before help could reach him.

PEOPLES SUPPLY CO. ADDS NEW FIXTURES

The Peoples Supply company on South Sixth street, in line with their progressive policy, have lately installed a fine Bowe coffee case and dispensing counter, carrying electric coffee grinder and large supply bins.

This was done to keep the coffee under the most sanitary conditions and serve it out to the customer in a fresh condition with none of its aroma or strength lost.

With new innovations being installed at frequent intervals, the Peoples Supply is rapidly outgrowing its quarters, which is the very best compliment that could be paid to any business. It is planned soon to enlarge their show room to accommodate the growing business, already half again as large as it was last year.

This company has a most perfect refrigeration plant for preserving its perishable products. The plant is of the Hussman Co. construction, there being only one other like it in the city, at the Storzbach meat market in Northeast Brainerd. In this plant eggs can be frozen solid in a few hours, so intense can the cold be made. Butter can be kept in the same compartment with other products without being tainted by them.

Messrs. Cater and Peterson, the proprietors, came to this city from St. Cloud about a year and a half ago. It is quite unusual for so young a firm to become so well established

THE COST OF EDUCATION

SMALLER colleges, and even larger educational institutions, unless they are fortunate in having vast endowments, are finding it increasingly difficult to secure the necessary funds to meet their expenses.

Almost simultaneously the trustees of Fargo college announce that it will not be re-opened this fall, and Prof. Roy C. Flickinger, dean of Northwestern university states that the hiring of married instructors will be discontinued.

Fargo college is to remain closed because of the failure of the trustees to secure the financial backing which will make it possible for them to re-open the college during the next year. This is unfortunate as the small college has made a real contribution to American life and, with requisite support, would continue to be a real asset to the territory in which it is located. Many arguments may be advanced to show the need of such institutions, and their benefit to their students. In the first place the expenses of the student are not so heavy where the student body is limited. There are not such demands upon students to keep up with the pace set by those wealthier than themselves, nor are there so many opportunities for spending money. And many students have been graduated from small colleges who would not have gone to the larger educational centers. Many great American leaders in various walks of life, including President Harding, got their education in small colleges. But in recent years the expenses of upkeep have been vastly increased and, after a struggle for the past few years, Fargo is compelled to close its doors.

In the case of Northwestern university, an imposing educational institution, the policy of engaging professors who are unmarried results from the inability of the college to pay salaries which will enable the instructors to live in the community in which the school is located. Instructors might be able to keep their families on a minimum of $1,600 and maximum of $2,500 in some locations but this cannot be done where the cost of living is what it is in Evanston. The wives of instructors have been found at work in stores in Evanston because the professors' income was not sufficient to meet the cost of living.

There are reasons for the conditions at Fargo and Northwestern that are common to almost all the interests in the country. Salaries have been raised to meet the higher standard of living demanded by this age and all other expenses of the colleges have been proportionately increased. Therefore the income of a few years does not begin to meet the present cost of upkeep.

Eliminating married instructors will not result in securing the best grade of teaching for the young people who attend Northwestern. Younger, unmarried professors have not been equipped for the best service through years of research and experience as instructors. But while this is fully known the college must cut its coat according to the cloth.

But is the closing down of colleges and the hiring of second grade instructors to go on? Teachers are required to spend many years in preparing themselves for their work and after this costly preparation are paid a salary which is not equal to the wages of those who have not been required to spend years in preparing for their occupation. Surely, the country does not sufficiently reward those who are training its youth.

Taxes for education are high, and bequests for education many; but so long as America spends such enormous sums for moving pictures, chewing gum, candies, cosmetics and tobacco; to say nothing of baseball and the prize-ring whose champions get sufficient in one year to pay a professor's salary for a life-time, America must feel humiliated over such announcements as these.

MILITARY TRAINING

W. F. WEBSTER, superintendent of schools in Minneapolis, in making recommendations to the board of education, suggested that there is no reason why those for or against military training should become too enthusiastic over the position they champion. Superintendent Webster said: "It may be that the body would be slightly more benefited by a course in gymnastics than by military drill. The advantage, however, of either kind of training over the other is negligible."

People in other cities are interested in Superintendent Webster's recommendation that military training be discontinued after the school year 1922-1923. It comes after a lengthy controversy on the subject which caused some hard feelings in Minneapolis and led to charges being preferred against Rev. Russell H. Stafford, a Congregational minister, who holds a commission in the army reserve, because he publicly opposed military drill in high schools. The officers who investigated found that he was not guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer of the United States army. In the primary election in June over 5,000 more votes were cast against such training than for it. The board of education has therefore acted in harmony with the expressed will of the people of the city.

Huge Cattle Barn at State Fair

SE. Paul, Aug. 23.—More than 5,000 head of pure-bred stock from the leading herds, flocks and stables of America, will be visitors to the Minnesota State Fair this year. The fair is to be held Sept. 2 to 9.

The huge cattle barn, built at a cost of $600,000, and known as the largest, most modern and most complete structure of its kind, in the world, will be too small to house the cattle exhibit. It was thought the building would suffice for decades when built two years ago, but already Minnesota's dairy industry has developed to a point where the state fair cattle barn is too small to shelter it.

Horses, swine and sheep from all parts of the United States will be shown for the generous premiums offered by the fair. This year the Minnesota State Fair announced an increase of premiums totalling nearly $10,000 and the generosity of the fair board is bearing fruit. Many of the state fairs cut their premiums decidedly this year, which is causing exhibitors who showed at these fairs formerly to head this way with the pick of their stock.

The machinery show will be the biggest one ever shown in the United States. Three weeks in advance of the opening every foot of space on the eighty acre grounds of the machinery exposition was sold. All the latest farm machinery will be displayed.

The exhibition of farm products, women's work and children's work will be large. The children have been given a new building to house their rapidly growing department. Fruits of all kinds will be shown in the horticultural building.

An attendance of 500,000 persons is expected by fair officials.

A. F. L. STRIKE STAND
JOLTS PEACE HOPE"ALL ORGANIZED LABOR" ASKED TO GIVE SHOPMEN MORAL & FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Washington, Aug. 23.—An appeal by the American Federation of Labor to its 4,000,000 members to give moral and financial support to the railroad shopmen's strike, served to jolt considerably the optimism in administration quarters that the strike would be settled at the mediation conference between the railroad brotherhood officials and railway executives at the New York conference this week.

Following the statement issued by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Saturday, declaring President Harding's address to congress on the industrial situation to have been "unfortunate" and predicting it would restrain rather than facilitate the peace negotiations, the executive council of the federation issued the appeal for widespread support of the strike.

United Support Asked

The federal appeal, addressed to "all organized labor," is in part as follows:

"The executive council of the American Federation of Labor addresses this appeal to all organized labor throughout America in behalf of the organization in the railway employees department, whose members are now on strike, to resist the impositions of unfair terms and conditions of employment.

"It must be clear to all wage earners and to all thinking men and women, that the policy that has been pursued by the railroads has been entirely in harmony with the policy of all organizations of employees, which since the armistice, have been seeking to weaken and destroy the voluntary organizations of the workers.

Railroads are Blamed

"The railroads have been engaged in this effort from the moment government control was relinquished on March 1, 1920.

"For two and a half years the railroad workers, now on strike, made every possible effort to co-operate with railroad labor board in order to give the law every possible trial and to obtain if possible, just ends for the workers and continuous operation of the roads.

"No amount of conscientious effort and forbearance on the part of the workers, however, could overcome the attitude and the policies dictated by the small but powerful group of bankers who control the finances of the railroads and who have compelled the adoption by the railroads of a policy of bitter antagonism to the organizations of the workers.

Injustices Charged

"Finally, the decision of the board compelled resistance on the part of the workers through suspension of work. A wage of 23 cents per hour was established for sectionmen and this wage is the basis upon which all other wages are calculated.

"In addition to this the board ordered the abolition of the payment of time and a half for work done on Saturdays and holidays. It was sought to impose grave injustices upon the workers through ruling of the labor board, while the railroads had consistently violated and repudiated rulings of the boards from the beginning."

Reports persist here that the rail strike, if ended by the negotiations now in progress, would be settled by means of a "gentleman's agreement." Notwithstanding the denial of De Witt Cuyler, president of the Association of Railway Executives, it was reported on good authority that the proposal under consideration provided a means for both sides to "save their faces." In other words, neither side will "yield in principle" regarding the seniority issue. The seniority question will remain technically unsettled, but the men will go back to work under a "gentleman's agreement" that they will get back the old places or jobs equally as good—that is, if the reported basis of settlement goes through.

Railroads are Blamed

"The railroads have been engaged in this effort from the moment government control was relinquished on March 1, 1920.

"For two and a half years the railroad workers, now on strike, made every possible effort to co-operate with railroad labor board in order to give the law every possible trial and to obtain if possible, just ends for the workers and continuous operation of the roads.

"No amount of conscientious effort and forbearance on the part of the workers, however, could overcome the attitude and the policies dictated by the small but powerful group of bankers who control the finances of the railroads and who have compelled the adoption by the railroads of a policy of bitter antagonism to the organizations of the workers.

Injustices Charged

"Finally, the decision of the board compelled resistance on the part of the workers through suspension of work. A wage of 23 cents per hour was established for sectionmen and this wage is the basis upon which all other wages are calculated.

"In addition to this the board ordered the abolition of the payment of time and a half for work done on Saturdays and holidays. It was sought to impose grave injustices upon the workers through ruling of the labor board, while the railroads had consistently violated and repudiated rulings of the boards from the beginning."

Reports persist here that the rail strike, if ended by the negotiations now in progress, would be settled by means of a "gentleman's agreement." Notwithstanding the denial of De Witt Cuyler, president of the Association of Railway Executives, it was reported on good authority that the proposal under consideration provided a means for both sides to "save their faces." In other words, neither side will "yield in principle" regarding the seniority issue. The seniority question will remain technically unsettled, but the men will go back to work under a "gentleman's agreement" that they will get back the old places or jobs equally as good—that is, if the reported basis of settlement goes through.

Eveleth Boxing Show

Eveleth, Aug. 23.—Eveleth will try to import most of the American Legion convention from Virginia tonight for a boxing show, the biggest ever staged on the iron range.

Midget Smith, Minneapolis bantam-weight, and Stewart McLean, also of Minneapolis, are carded for the headliner.

There are about 5,000 members of the American Legion crowding the iron range for the convention at Virginia and many are expected here.

Athletics Interest Legion

Virginia, Aug. 23.—American Legion men attending the annual state convention gave their attention to athletic contests today.

A long series of events, to determine the champions of the legion in Minnesota, was scheduled. Dashes, runs, walks, hurdles, jumps, relay races and field events were on the program.

Jack Townley, Jr., of Fergus Falls, athletic chairman of the state committee, was seeking a cable strong enough to stand up under a tug of war.

C. N. Sherlund, prop. plumbing business, 312 6th St. S., Brainerd, says: "My kidneys gave me a lot of trouble by their frequent action and this was bad enough but to be troubled with backache such as I had was worse. I had such severe pains when I bent it was about all I could do to straighten again. There was a dull ache in my kidneys that annoyed me a great deal and I was surely feeling pretty mean. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me, making me feel like a different person. I use Doan's occasionally and they keep me in good health."

Uhle Outpitches Joe Bush

New York, Aug. 22.—Joe Bush's winning streak of nine straight games was broken today, Cleveland defeating the Yankees in the first game of the series 6 to 2. It was Bush's fifth defeat in 25 games. The defeat decreased New York's lead in the American league to a half game.

The pitcher a remarkable game for the visitors, holding New York to two hits. After the first inning only two Yankees reached first, both on bases on balls. The work of the veteran Larry Gardner figured largely in Cleveland's scoring. He hit a double and two singles and drew a base on balls, stole two bases, drove in three runs and scored a fourth.

made no plans as yet for the appointing of a successor or re-organization

For the balance of the month, Cap-

CHANCE TO IMPROVE COUNTY FAIR JUDGING

How to make judging work at state, county and community fairs more educational, and therefore of increased value to exhibitors and patrons, is being given more consideration by the agricultural extension people of the university than ever before.

The judging or awarding of premiums is now largely left to disinterested experts from the outside, especially from the agricultural college through the extension service," says R. S. Mackintosh, university specialist in horticulture. "Many people want to be shown just why and how awards are made in the various classes.
Often the specific reason why a certain animal or article has been given first position over another should be answered by the judge. This has prompted the providing of special facilities for public demonstrations in judging so that the judge may explain the reasons for his acts.

"Officials of fairs should provide an adequate arena where demonstrations can be given in the judging of some of the more important classes at certain definite periods. To accomplish this the superintendents and officials will have to get the exhibits staged systematically and on time.
During the fair season this fall, consideration will be given to providing a time and place at a few fairs to demonstrate that this ideal can be carried out to the advantage of all concerned."

NEW CARS AT FAIR

Automobile Show to Introduce Many New Features to Visitors on September 2 to 9

Plans for the biggest automobile and accessories show ever staged by the Minnesota State Fair—its dates this year are September 2 to 9—are in the making, it was announced today.

The big show room in the grandstand is being remodeled completely.
More than $10,000 is being spent for improvements. Everything will be ready by the end of August.

Several new makes of automobiles never seen here will be exhibited for the first time at the State Fair show.
New models of some of the older makes will also be shown. Several manufacturers who are still working on new cars and new models for exhibition at the fall shows have informed Mr. Wilmot that they are hurrying them through for the show at the fair, formally opening their sales campaign in the entire country.

Thousands of dealers and agents are expected to visit the show to look over new and improved lines. Manufacturers of autos and accessories will be represented by officers and sales executives direct from the factory in some instances, desirous of establishing new agencies and conferring with old ones.

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING TONIGHT

Tourist Question, One of the Most Importance to City, Will be Discussed at Gathering

STREET PAVING REPORT UP

Paving of Center Strip of Two of Brainerd's Main Arteries, South
6th and West Laurel

A number of important matters will occupy the attention of the Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting this evening.

Among other things will be the tourist question, something that should be of the utmost importance to the business men of the city.
Plans should be made for the holding of the tourists who have been coming into this section annually, and for interesting others who have never seen the wonders of the Ten Thousand Lakes region.

Perry S. Williams of the Minneapolis Journal tourists information bureau, in a letter to the Chamber, asks for another large supply of the Brainerd map and folder entitled,
"The Nation's Undiscovered Playground". So great has been the demand for literature about this section, that the Journal finds it hard to keep a supply on hand.

The committee from the Chamber which appeared before the city council Monday evening will report on the paving of the center strip of two of the city's main arteries, South 6th and West Laurel streets. Members of the Chamber should interest themselves in finding a method of financing this proposition until such time as the refund might be made by the state.

There are always questions of vital importance coming before the club's meetings, and the members should be interested enough in the civic welfare of the city to be present and help in the disposition of these matters.

ALLEGED BANDIT GANG IN CUSTODY

(By United Press.)
Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—Six members of an alleged bandit gang, including one woman, whom police believe may be connected with the mysterious murder of Fred Oestereich, wealthy Milwaukee and Los Angeles manufacturer, were taken into custody today.
Early this morning officers passed a house in which a boisterous party was in progress. The officers broke in and arrested James Casey, 35, in whose possession was found a revolver of the caliber used in the murder of Oestereich. Four cartridges had recently been discharged.

None of the others of the group could account for their whereabouts at the time of the murder, police said.

QUINCE STREET GRADING PLANNED

To Extend from 8th to 10th Streets, and Sidewalks Also Ordered in on the Stretch

6TH AND LAUREL 18 FT. PAVING

Chamber of Commerce Committee Reported and Gave Opinion that It Can be Done and Refund Made

The city council held its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Alderman Koop.
President Strickler presided.

The Earl Koop claim for damage done by water in basement, was reported on and upon motion the bill was not allowed, since it could not be shown that the damage arose from negligence on the part of the city.

The city will replace the cement paving on South 6th street where the old city seals used to be, paving from the curb to the center of the street.

The care of fire apparatus now standing out to the weather was referred to the fire committee for proper housing.

The matter of grading Quince street between 8th and 10th streets came up, and it was moved to grade this section of the street and put in sidewalks. The city engineer's report was accepted and he was ordered to proceed with the advertising of bids for this work.

The report of the committee on the repairing of the fire truck was accepted. The truck was to be back in commission by Tuesday night.

A culvert was ordered in at 15th and Pine street. A ditch at Quince and 11th street needing attention, the city engineer was ordered to make the necessary repairs.

A sidewalk was ordered in on the Parson's property on West Bluff avenue and the engineer was instructed to advertise for bids on same.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, composed of County Highway Engineer Walter Murphy and Peter Brown, waited on the council with proposals for methods of financing the paving of the 18 ft. strip through the middle of 6th and Laurel streets. Mr. Murphy reported that he had met with Messrs. Biller, Mullen and Motl of State Highway Department relative to this matter, and that it was their opinion that the paving could be done now, and a refund made by the state after the meeting of the next legislature.

The council moved to accept the report of this committee and turned it over to the finance committee for their consideration, to be reported back to the council at their next meeting. The contractors are willing to wait for their money on this job until next spring, if the finance committee can assure them that there will be sufficient funds to meet the obligation.

A motion carried to allow J. E.
Goossen, proprietor of the Commercial College $35 out of his rent with which to clean the walls of the college.

Lamp posts from the west end of Front street were ordered moved to places designated to fill in gaps made by broken posts. This matter was referred to the city attorney and city engineer with power to act.

The matter of a drinking fountain to be installed in the city hall was brought up. The water and light department agrees to install such a fountain without cost, if the city will provide the material. This was referred to the water committee.

The matter of electing a health officer came before the meeting and election followed, in which there were three proposals for the office.
When the vote was counted, Dr. B. I.
Derauf received one vote, Dr. E. F.
Jamieson three votes, and Dr. Joseph Nicholson four votes. There being no majority the matter was allowed to stand.

It was moved that the council authorize a new contract with Mr. Miller of Northeast Brainerd for a new sewer to be put in through his land.
Mr. Miller asks that the city take out the old box sewer and fill in the ditch left thereby. Also, it was decided to accept Mr. Koering's verbal offer to fill in the old sewer through the ball park and permit him to tap the new one in its place. Bids will be advertised for lateral sewers in various parts of the city.

The regular routine bills were allowed subject to the approval of the finance committee. The next regular meeting night of the council falling on Sept. 4th, which is Labor day, the meeting will be postponed until the following evening, Tuesday, Sept.
5th.

TOURIST TRADE IS GREAT ASSET

Summer Travelers Coming in Goodly Numbers, and Shortage of Lake
Cottages Continues

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AIDS

Information Bureau Keeps Record of Travelers in Order to Send Literature Next Season

If any think that the tourist business is beginning to falloff, they need only visit the tourist information bureau any afternoon to have such anxieties relieved.

Summer travelers are still coming in goodly number, and the shortage of lake cottages is as keenly felt as at any time this season.

At the information bureau, a more complete system of registration has been put into effect. The tourist is asked to put down his name and address, what highway he has just traveled, conditions of roads he has been over, and where he is bound.

The latter information concerning roads is for the benefit of his fellow traveler, the balance is for use by the Chamber of Commerce in making their bid for next season's tourist traffic. It is the plan of the Chamber to send interesting literature to the names taken from this register, very early next Spring, so that the prospect receives it about the time the first robin puts in his appearance, and the wanderlust begins gnawing at the heart of the summer emigrant.
He will be reminded of his sojourn in our city last year, and be invited to make Brainerd his headquarters again this season.

This matter of advertising our section to the tourist is no small matter.
The entire continent is the field from which we draw. The register at the information bureau illustrates this very clearly. Parties are registered this past week, for example, from Valley Forge, Pottstown and Forest City, Pennsylvania; Tulsa, Oklahoma; Phoenix, Arizona; Spring Valley, Arkansas; Kansas City, Kansas; Fort Wayne and Michigan City, Indiana; with a large showing from all points in Minnesota and neighboring states.
One family left the cool mountain retreats of Idaho for the Crow Wing county lake region. Ching Lung from Hong Kong has come a long way to view the beauties of this section.

Some of the tourists are complaining that a number of business houses hardly give them a civil answer when they make inquiries thereof.
This is to be regretted, since the tourist trade in Brainerd is a big item and should be jealously guarded.
One Brainerd merchant reports that over sixty dollars was spent in his place of business by a single tourist party. Surely this kind of trade is not to be lightly dealt with.

A concerted effort should be made the good will of this summer's travelers, and to increase that number and that good will next season. The tourist business is a big asset to this section in general and to Brainerd in particular. Let's work together to increase it.

Uhle Outpitches Joe Bush

New York, Aug. 22.—Joe Bush's winning streak of nine straight games was broken today, Cleveland defeating the Yankees in the first game of the series 6 to 2. It was Bush's fifth defeat in 25 games. The defeat decreased New York's lead in the American league to a half game. Uhle pitched a remarkable game for the visitors, holding New York to two hits. After the first inning only two Yankees reached first, both on bases on balls. The work of the veteran Larry Gardner figured largely in Cleveland's scoring. He hit a double and two singles and drew a base on balls, stole two bases, drove in three runs and scored a fourth.

CHANCE TO IMPROVE COUNTY FAIR JUDGING

How to make judging work at state, county and community fairs more educational, and therefore of increased value to exhibitors and patrons, is being given more consideration by the agricultural extension people of the university than ever before.

The judging or awarding of premiums is now largely left to disinterested experts from the outside, especially from the agricultural college through the extension service," says R. S. Mackintosh, university specialist in horticulture. "Many people want to be shown just why and how awards are made in the various classes. Often the specific reason why a certain animal or article has been given first position over another should be answered by the judge. This has prompted the providing of special facilities for public demonstrations in judging so that the judge may explain the reasons for his acts.

"Officials of fairs should provide an adequate arena where demonstrations can be given in the judging of some of the more important classes at certain definite periods. To accomplish this the superintendents and officials will have to get the exhibits staged systematically and on time. During the fair season this fall, consideration will be given to providing a time and place at a few fairs to demonstrate that this ideal can be carried out to the advantage of all concerned."

Church Housecleaning

The Bethlehem Lutheran ladies will hold a church housecleaning on Thursday.

NEW CARS AT FAIR

Automobile Show to Introduce Many New Features to Visitors on September 2 to 9

Plans for the biggest automobile and accessories show ever staged by the Minnesota State Fair—its dates this year are September 2 to 9—are in the making. It was announced today.

The big show room in the grandstand is being remodeled completely. More than $40,000 is being spent for improvements. Everything will be ready by the end of August.

Several new makes of automobiles never seen here will be exhibited for the first time at the State Fair show. New models of some of the older makes will also be shown. Several manufacturers who are still working on new cars and new models for exhibition at the fall shows have informed Mr. Wilmut that they are hurrying them through for the show at the fair, formally opening their sales campaign in the entire country.

Thousands of dealers and agents are expected to visit the show to look over new and improved lines. Manufacturers of autos and accessories will be represented by officers and sales executives direct from the factory in some instances, desirous of establishing new agencies and conferring with old ones.

CHAMBER COMMERCE MEETING TONIGHT

Tourist Question, One of the Most Importance to City, Will be Discussed at Gathering

STREET PAVING REPORT UP

Paving of Center Strip of Two of Brainerd's Main Arteries, South 6th and West Laurel

A number of important matters will occupy the attention of the Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting this evening.

Among other things will be the tourist question, something that should be of the utmost importance to the business men of the city. Plans should be made for the holding of the tourists who have been coming into this section annually, and for interesting others who have never seen the wonders of the Ten Thousand Lakes region.

Perry S. Williams of the Minneapolis Journal tourists information bureau, in a letter to the Chamber, asks for another large supply of the Brainerd map and folder entitled, "The Nation's Undiscovered Playground". So great has been the demand for literature about this section, that the Journal finds it hard to keep a supply on hand.

The committee from the Chamber which appeared before the city council Monday evening will report on the paving of the center strip of two of the city's main arteries, South 6th and West Laurel streets. Members of the Chamber should interest themselves in finding a method of financing this proposition until such time as the refund might be made by the state.

There are always questions of vital importance coming before the club's meetings, and the members should be interested enough in the civic welfare of the city to be present and help in the disposition of these matters.

ALLEGED BANDIT GANG IN CUSTODY

(By United Press.)

Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—Six members of an alleged bandit gang, including one woman, whom police believe may be connected with the mysterious murder of Fred Oestereich, wealthy Milwaukee and Los Angeles manufacturer, were taken into custody today. Early this morning officers passed a house in which a boisterous party was in progress. The officers broke in and arrested James Casey, 35, in whose possession was found a revolver of the caliber used in the murder of Oestereich. Four cartridges had recently been discharged.

None of the others of the group could account for their whereabouts at the time of the murder, police said.

QUINCE STREET GRADING PLANNED

To Extend from 8th to 10th Streets, and Sidewalks Also Ordered in on the Stretch

6TH AND LAUREL 18 FT. PAVING

Chamber of Commerce Committee Reported and Gave Opinion that It Can be Done and Refund Made

The city council held its regular semi-monthly meeting Monday evening, all members being present with the exception of Alderman Koop. President Strickler presided.

The Earl Koop claim for damage done by water in basement, was reported on and upon motion the bill was not allowed, since it could not be shown that the damage arose from negligence on the part of the city.

The city will replace the cement paving on South 6th street where the old city scale's used to be, paving from the curb to the center of the street.

The care of fire apparatus now standing out to the weather was referred to the fire committee for proper housing.

The matter of grading Quince street between 8th and 10th streets came up, and it was moved to grade this section of the street and put in sidewalks. The city engineer's report was accepted and he was ordered to proceed with the advertising of bids for this work.

The report of the committee on the repairing of the fire truck was accepted. The truck was to be back in commission by Tuesday night.

A culvert was ordered in at 15th and Pine street. A ditch at Quince and 11th street needing attention, the city engineer was ordered to make the necessary repairs.

A sidewalk was ordered in on the Parson's property on West Bluff avenue and the engineer was instructed to advertise for bids on same.

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce, composed of County Highway Engineer Walter Murphy and Peter Brown, waited on the council with proposals for methods of financing the paving of the 18 ft. strip through the middle of 6th and Laurel streets. Mr. Murphy reported that he had met with Messrs. Biller, Mulen and Motl of State Highway Department relative to this matter, and that it was their opinion that the paving could be done now, and a refund made by the state after the meeting of the next legislature.

The council moved to accept the report of this committee and turned it over to the finance committee for their consideration, to be reported back to the council at their next meeting. The contractors are willing to wait for their money on this job until next spring, if the finance committee can assure them that there will be sufficient funds to meet the obligation.

A motion carried to allow J. E. Goossen, proprietor of the Commercial College $35 out of his rent with which to clean the walls of the college.

Lamp posts from the west end of Front street were ordered moved to places designated to fill in gaps made by broken posts. This matter was referred to the city attorney and city engineer with power to act.

The matter of a drinking fountain to be installed in the city hall was brought up. The water and light department agrees to install such a fountain without cost, if the city will provide the material. This was referred to the water committee.

The matter of electing a health officer came before the meeting and election followed, in which there were three proposals for the office. When the vote was counted, Dr. B. I. Derauf received one vote, Dr. E. F. Jamieson three votes, and Dr. Joseph Nicholson four votes. There being no majority the matter was allowed to stand.

It was moved that the council authorize a new contract with Mr. Miller of Northeast Brainerd for a new sewer to be put in through his land. Mr. Miller asks that the city take out the old box sewer and fill in the ditch left thereby. Also, it was decided to accept Mr. Koering's verbal offer to fill in the old sewer through the ball park and permit him to tap the new one in its place. Bids will be advertised for lateral sewers in various parts of the city.

The regular routine bills were allowed subject to the approval of the finance committee. The next regular meeting night of the council falling on Sept. 4th, which is Labor day, the meeting will be postponed until the following evening, Tuesday, Sept. 5th.

TOURIST TRADE IS GREAT ASSET

Summer Travelers Coming in Goodly Numbers, and Shortage of Lake Cottages Continues

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AIDS

Information Bureau Keeps Record of Travelers in Order to Send Literature Next Season

If any think that the tourist business is beginning to falter, they need only to visit the tourist information bureau any afternoon to have such anxieties relieved.

Summer travelers are still coming in goodly number, and the shortage of lake cottages is as keenly felt as at any time this season.

At the information bureau, a more complete system of registration has been put into effect. The tourist is asked to put down his name and address, what highway he has just traveled, conditions of roads he has been over, and where he is bound.

The latter information concerning roads is for the benefit of his fellow traveler, the balance is for use by the Chamber of Commerce in making their bid for next season's tourist traffic. It is the plan of the Chamber to send interesting literature to the names taken from this register, very early next spring, so that the prospect receives it about the time the first robin puts in his appearance, and the wanderlust begins gnawing at the heart of the summer emigrant. He will be reminded of his sojourn in our city last year, and be invited to make Brainerd his headquarters again this season.

This matter of advertising our section to the tourist is no small matter. The entire continent is the field from which we draw. The register at the information bureau illustrates this very clearly. Parties are registered this past week, for example, from Valley Forge, Pottstown and Forest City, Pennsylvania; Tulsa, Oklahoma; Phoenix, Arizona; Spring Valley, Arkansas; Kansas City, Kansas; Fort Wayne and Michigan City, Indiana; with a large showing from all points in Minnesota and neighboring states. One family left the cool mountain retreats of Idaho for the Crow Wing county lake region. Ching Lung from Hong Kong has come a long way to view the beauties of this section.

Some of the tourists are complaining that a number of business houses hardly give them a civil answer when they make inquiries therein. This is to be regretted, since the tourist trade in Brainerd is a big item and should be jealously guarded. One Brainerd merchant reports that over sixty dollars was spent in his place of business by a single tourist party. Surely this kind of trade is not to be lightly dealt with.

A concerted effort should be made by the merchants of this city to keep the good will of this summer's travelers, and to increase that number and that good will next season. The tourist business is a big asset to this section in general and to Brainerd in particular. Let's work together to increase it.

FIRPO AND DEMPSEY—PERHAPS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 23.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine caveman, is now in the process of a "build up" for Jack Dempsey.

The South American giant, who knocked over some of the best heavy-weight divers last winter and in the early spring, is to be matched with Jim Tracey, former Australian champion and then he is to be sent to London to tap Joe Beckett, the British champion, on the chin.

Then Dempsey—unless something happens.

Something may happen, however, as reports are coming from South America that his little success is going to his head and several of his native papers are decorating him with the raspberry.

Commenting on fights in general, the Buenos Aires Standard (an English language paper) discourses as follows about Firpo:

"The fight game in Argentina is sure booming now, thanks in no small degree to Firpo's mighty (?) achievements. Every fellow who has taken a lesson or two in the noble art of self defense believes that he's got the pasta 'n him to make the champions look like suckers. The local boys will tell you without battin' an eyelash that there's only two top-sawyers in the heavy-weight class in the world, one, of course, being FIRPO (we think we've heard his name before) and the other an American bloke called Jack Dempsey.

"One of Firpo's admirers told us the other day that it was quite obvious that Jack Dempsey wasn't at all comfortable with himself since Firpo slipped into the United States and started in cleaning up the ring of the dud pugilists who constitute Dempsey's bodyguard. This fellow also remarked that once Firpo stepped through the aforementioned ring, Dempsey would either have to step forward and take his medicine or quit the game forever. By Gosh, it's awful, isn't it.

"Firpo, by the way, has been having a glorious time since he returned to Argentina. They've been presenting him with illuminated parchments, gold watches, medals about the size of dinner platters and they've even gone so far as to pour champagne into his innards. And they say, mind you, that 'Lu' was never known to touch a drop of booze in his natural. Well, he's learning, anyhow.

"Lots of fellows who made the trip back on the ship with Firpo are terribly peeved with 'Lu.' They almost killed the giant with kindness and naturally enough, expected that Firpo's gratitude would be expressed in golden dollars for parties at the end of the trip. Luisto, however, stalked off the ship without unloading a ruddy dime. We figure that if Lu doesn't manage to capture the heavyweight title, he's at least certain to become a magnate."

One Rough-House Ware, a dusky gym fighter, will furnish evidence if anyone doubts that Firpo is thrifty. Ware was engaged to go to Argentina to act as Firpo's sparring partner. Thinking that a peso was worth about five dollars, Rough-House thought he had stumbled into Paradise when Firpo offered him fifty pesos a month for his end. He nearly starved when he arrived down there and found that a peso was worth about fifty cents. He had to stoke his way back home.

Jimmy De Forest started to train Firpo when he first arrived in the United States and was making good headway with him until Firpo suddenly cancelled all business relations. De Forest learned later that some of the South Americans in New York had told Firpo that De Forest was a friend of Dempsey's and was being paid by the world's champion to teach him the wrong way to fight.

"He didn't have a thing to learn about the wrong way," De Forest said.

So many strange things are being pulled in the fight game that it would not be a surprise to see Dempsey and Firpo in the ring next summer.

FIRPO AND DEMPSEY—PERHAPS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 23.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine caveman, is now in the process of a "build up" for Jack Dempsey.

The South American giant, who knocked over some of the best heavy-weight divers last winter and in the early spring, is to be matched with Jim Tracey, former Australian champion and then he is to be sent to London to tap Joe Beckett, the British champion, on the chin.

Then Dempsey—unless something happens.

Something may happen, however, as reports are coming from South America that his little success is going to his head and several of his native papers are decorating him with the raspberry.

Commenting on fights in general, the Buenos Aires Standard (an English language paper) discourses as follows about Firpo:

"The fight game in Argentina is sure booming now, thanks in no small degree to Firpo's mighty (?) achievements. Every fellow who has taken a lesson or two in the noble art of self-defense believes that he's got the pasta 'n him to make the champions look like suckers. The local boys will tell you without battin' an eyelash that there's only two top-sawyers in the heavy-weight class in the world, one, of course, being FIRPO (we think we've heard his name before) and the other an American bloke called Jack Dempsey.

"One of Firpo's admirers told us the other day that it was quite obvious that Jack Dempsey wasn't at all comfortable with himself since Firpo slipped into the United States and started in cleaning up the ring of the dud pugilists who constitute Dempsey's bodyguard. This fellow also remarked that once Firpo stepped through the aforementioned ring, Dempsey would either have to step forward and take his medicine or quit the game forever. By Gosh, it's awful, isn't it.

"Firpo, by the way, has been having a glorious time since he returned to Argentina. They've been presenting him with illuminated parchments, gold watches, medals about the size of dinner platters and they've even gone so far as to pour champagne into his innards. And they say, mind you, that 'Lu' was never known to touch a drop of booze in his natural. Well, he's learning, anyhow.

"Lots of fellows who made the trip back on the ship with Firpo are terribly peeved with 'Lu.' They almost killed the giant with kindness and naturally enough, expected that Firpo's gratitude would be expressed in golden dollars for parties at the end of the trip. Luisto, however, stalked off the ship without unloading a ruddy dime. We figure that if Lu doesn't manage to capture the heavyweight title, he's at least certain to become a magnate."

One Rough-House Ware, a dusky gym fighter, will furnish evidence if anyone doubts that Firpo is thrifty. Ware was engaged to go to Argentina to act as Firpo's sparring partner. Thinking that a peso was worth about five dollars, Rough-House thought he had stumbled into Paradise when Firpo offered him fifty pesos a month for his end. He nearly starved when he arrived down there and found that a peso was worth about fifty cents. He had to stoke his way back home.

Jimmy De Forest started to train Firpo when he first arrived in the United States and was making good headway with him until Firpo suddenly cancelled all business relations. De Forest learned later that some of the South Americans in New York had told Firpo that De Forest was a friend of Dempsey's and was being paid by the world's champion to teach him the wrong way to fight.

"He didn't have a thing to learn about the wrong way," De Forest said.

So many strange things are being pulled in the fight game that it would not be a surprise to see Dempsey and Firpo in the ring next summer.

AMUSEMENTS

"Heliotrope" at the Lyceum

The chief attraction at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Thursday belies its name in one respect. It is called "Heliotrope," and one might from the title infer a sweet-scented light romance. Instead, the picture unfolds a vigorous, thrilling story of father-love and the sacrifice made by a regenerated convict to save the happiness of his daughter.

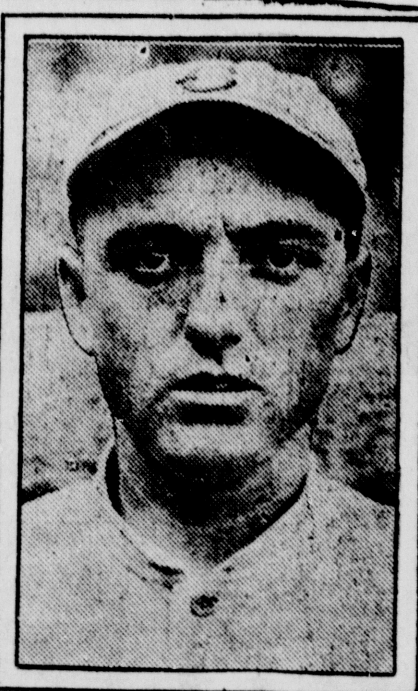

Frederick Burton in the Cosmopolitan Production "Heliotrope" A Paramount Picture

"Heliotrope Harry" so called because of his fondness for the scent of heliotrope is serving a life sentence in a penitentiary. Learning from a pal that his daughter, who believes herself an orphan, is about to be married to a rich young man and that his unscrupulous wife is planning to blackmail the happy pair, "Heliotrope" pleads for his release from prison to protect the girl. It is finally granted, on condition that no harm will befall his wife at his hands.

The ex-convict embarks upon a shrewd scheme of intimidation that soon has the adventuress shrinking with terror and at his mercy. Then, by a final heroic act, he forever eliminates the wicked woman from being a sinister menace to his daughter's happiness. How this is accomplished makes one of the greatest thrills ever shown on the screen.

DAMAGING FIRES IN BRAINERD DISTRICT

in a meadow, and beside burning up valuable hay land, it makes the ground absolutely valueless for a number of years thereafter.

State Forestry Board to Brainerd St. Paul, Aug. 23.—Members of the State Forestry Board headed by W. T. Cox, state forester, left for Brainerd today to organize fire fighting work in that district.

Reports indicate that several large fires, most of them grass fires, north-east of Brainerd, threaten to become serious unless immediate steps are taken to extinguish them.

Blazes in the vicinity of Pine River and Hackenack are also reported as still serious.
